Making best use of the paper bags

- Allow wet food waste to drain thoroughly in the sink or a colander.

- Wrap prawn shards and fish waste in a piece of newspaper.

- For optimum hygiene, change the bag after 2-3 days, even if it’s not full.

- The bag holder can be cleaned in the dishwasher.

- By all means throw kitchen roll and paper serviettes in the paper bag along with the food waste – they’ll absorb a lot of moisture from the food waste.

- Always use the ventilated bag holder supplied. Do not place the bag holder in a normal waste bin or fit a plastic bag outside the holder. Sealed containers generate odour problems because they keep the moisture in, which will make the paper bag fall apart.

- It’s a good idea to put a bit of newspaper or kitchen roll in the bottom of the paper bag.

- Seal the paper bag thoroughly. Fold in the edges and roll it up tightly before placing it in the food waste container.

1. Place the bag in the bag holder.
2. Make sure that the base is flat. You might want to line the base with newspaper or kitchen roll.
3. Place food waste in the bag. Try to ensure that the waste is as dry as possible.
4. Do not fill the bag above the level of the dotted line.
5. Once the bag is full, fold in the corners and roll up the bag. Place the bag in the food waste container.
